THE REVOLUTION

bKash started with one core idea: everyone should have the power to control their own money.

With its unmatched last-mile reach, that one idea changed how Bangladesh transacts. Today, millions use bKash to access crucial financial services, turning everyday inclusion into an entire financial ecosystem.

Fifteen years, one street at a time.

15 Years of Moving Bangladesh Forward

Build What Matters

For 15 years, bKash has been expanding financial access across Bangladesh. What began as a way to move money has grown into a financial ecosystem reaching every corner.

Five values shape how we work:

Customer-Centric. Collaborative. Innovative. Agile. Ethical.

We challenge convention, work together, put customers first, and do what is right.

The Road Ahead

The next chapter is bigger than access. We are building towards a country where cashless is the norm, every transaction is secure, digital finance is understood and trusted, and advanced financial services are within everyone's reach.

After 15 years of transforming how Bangladesh moves money, the ambition is not simply to keep up with a changing Bangladesh, but to keep changing it, at a scale that matters to the entire economy.

THE ROAD AHEAD

The journey doesn't end with access.
It begins there.

From city workers to farmers in remote villages, bKash keeps innovating to make financial services safer, simpler and more accessible — building towards a future where financial inclusion is within everyone's reach.
